

WELL SERVICES CORP

Statement of Qualifications

Established in 2006, Excalibur Well services corporation is seen throughout California as a reliable well servicing and abandonment company that offers a wide range of services. Excalibur Well Services is renowned for our environmental considerations, safety record and our successes in obtaining abandonment and re-abandonment letters of approval from CALGem (formally DOGGR) as well as being a leader in successful well interception techniques.

Excalibur has successfully completed high profile projects below various locales in southern California, such as the 2nd & PCH, a social hub and community gathering place, and various residential communities in the Santa Fe Springs area as well as many more areas throughout Kern county and central California

Our Capability

Excalibur Well Services specializes in abandonments and re-abandonments that require more knowhow and a finer attention to detail to meet and exceed today's and tomorrow's environmental standards. In addition to well abandonments, re-abandonments and well interceptions, we also have great knowledge in well drilling, well servicing and stimulation that increases well productivity and decreases down time. We maintain a well-trained staff and a well-maintained fleet of equipment in a wide range of specialties that are integrated into our field of work.

Our Philosophy

Our goal has always been to provide our customers with integrity and quality, as well as an insight into the abandonment/re-abandonment process. We work closely with CALGem and other governing entities to suggest the most economical steps to complete each project, integrating the effect of existing well conditions into the scope of work. We rely heavily on our combined years of experience to help our customers achieve their projects safely and efficiently. It has been Excalibur's collaboration with all parties involved that provides the best solution where all individuals can take pride in achievement.

Our Family

Excalibur Well Services' staff consists of experience across the board. Well trained rig workers, operators, down-hole tool personnel, supervisors and consultants maintain an exemplary safety record. Our vision is that our consultants and supervisors, with years of well bore knowledge and experience, can evaluate, organize, and solve the most complex projects and will provide a safe and environmentally conscious service along with abandonment recommendations to our clients.
